The special video tribute to essential workers includes 13 members of the EMMF Festival Symphony Orchestra's brass and percussion sections playing American composer Aaron Copland's three-minute "Fanfare for the Common Man." Among the EMMF guest artist concerts are "teasers" by eight emerging Hollywood composers during which each one talks about composing and plays a portion of his or her original composition representing a decade of music from the 1940s through 2010-2020. Their works will premiere during EMMF's 2021 season. The virtual series also features concerts by Bram Wijnands performing stride piano jazz pieces; Sheng Cai playing Beethoven and Rachmaninoff at the piano; Fire in the Glen giving a porch concert of Celtic music; and Peggy Dettwiler, Mansfield University's Choral Activities director, sharing music from the university's choral program from 2016 to 2020 "to generate enthusiasm for the day when we shall sing together again," she said. Other EMMF guest musicians showcased in the virtual series are: singer-songwriter Abbie Gardner, a talented Dobro and slide guitarist performing her original folk songs; Grammy-winner Doris Hall-Gulati on clarinet; Jessica Wilbee on harp; violinists Hua Jin, Sirena Huang and Siwoo Kim; and vocalists Catherine Robison-Ranney and Todd Ranney. "The EMMF live festival will be back and better than ever in 2021 featuring these incredible guest artists," said Executive Director Cindy Long. "In the meantime, we hope people enjoy their virtual performances." Use <https://vimeo.com/showcase/emmf2020> to access the 2020 Virtual Endless Mountain Music Festival concerts and tribute. The link is available on the Endless Mountain Music Festival's website at www.endlessmountain.net, Facebook at Endless Mountain Music Festival, at Instagram@endlessmountainmusicfestival, and at Twitter@EMMusicFestival. The library is open Tuesdays and Thursdays, 2pm-6pm; and Wednesdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, 10am-2pm; and closed Mondays for cleaning and quarantining of materials. Following reopening guidelines provided by the Office of Commonwealth Libraries, the public is allowed into the building by appointment only for three specific purposes: 1) to use a computer; 2) to pick up holds (books, audiobooks and DVDs reserved by an individual); or 3) for summer reading program registrants to pick up their "Imagine Your Story" bags. The library continues to provide curbside service for pick up of holds and asks patrons to continue to return all library materials to the book drop. Staff members wear masks and have their temperatures taken daily in the interest of patrons' health and safety. Patrons are asked to reciprocate by wearing masks when they are in the building and allowing staff to take their temperature. To request that books, audiobooks and DVDs be held and to schedule an appointment to pick them up inside the building or a time to pick them up at curbside, patrons are asked to call the library at 570-724-4876 or email GFLibrary15w@gmail.com. Patrons can also place holds through their My Account in the Spark catalogue at <https://greenfree.sparkpa.org/eg/opac/home>.

GREEN FREE LIBRARY SUMMER READING PROGRAM — People of all ages are invited to register now for "Imagine Your Story", the Green Free Library's summer reading program. To register, those with Internet access can visit <https://www.greenfreelibrary.org>, scroll down the page and click on the "ReadSquared" link and those who do not have Internet access can call the library at 570-724-4876. Those who register online or by phone are asked to set up an appointment to pick up their "Imagine Your Story" bag by calling the library at 570-724-4876. The "Imagine Your Story" bag includes coloring sheets, crafts, and games on a flash drive for those who registered online and a traditional paper log for those who registered by phone. Those who registered online can keep their reading logs online. Those who do not have Internet access should use the traditional paper log provided in their bags. For more information about the summer reading program, call the library at 570-724-4876.

REGISTER BY AUG. 15 FOR VIRTUAL BOOK CLUB — The Green Free Library is hosting a virtual book club on Zoom. The first meeting will be on Tuesday, Aug. 18, from 5:15pm-6pm. It will be a general discussion about what sort of books are helping participants get through the pandemic, if they have tried any new genres, and what books they are looking forward to reading? People interested in participating in the virtual book club are asked to sign up by Saturday, Aug. 15 by emailing their names and contact information to gflibrary10w@gmail.com. The meeting link will be sent to those who sign up on Monday, Aug. 17.

UPDATED JULY 24: Hamilton-Gibson Productions — 29 Water Street, Wellsboro. “For the safety of all involved in our main stage productions, including audiences, casts, crews and volunteers, we are implementing a number of changes,” said Artistic Director Thomas Putnam. Until further notice, all main stage performances will be by reservation only. Tickets must be ordered in advance and prepaid online at hgp.booktix.com or by calling the HG office at 570-724-2079 with credit card information. No tickets will be sold at the door. Those who wish can purchase a FlexPass for $60 and attend six performances of their choice, take a spouse or friend to three performances or five family members to one performance. A FlexPass has no expiration date and can be used anytime. It is up to the purchaser to decide how his or her FlexPass will be used but he or she is responsible for reserving seats in advance by calling HG at 570-724-2079. “Prepaid reservations allow us to assign seats for each performance to meet coronavirus social distancing protocols,” said Putnam. Hamilton-Gibson is limiting seating to less than 25 people per performance and following an extensive cleaning and disinfecting protocol before each show. Audience members are required to follow social distancing guidelines and wear face coverings. Hamilton-Gibson Productions has rescheduled most of its 2020 season. Several large cast productions and musicals have been postponed and replaced with small cast plays. Ticket prices for all main stage productions are $14 for adults and $6 for youth, 18 and under. For more information, to purchase a flex pass, or to reserve and prepay, call 570-724-2079 or email info@hamiltongibson.org

NEW JULY 17: Mansfield University — 31 South Academy Street, Mansfield. Phone: 570-662-4000. Mansfield University will welcome students back to campus for in-person instruction on Monday, August 17. In the wake of COVID-19, the university altered operations and postponed or canceled events this spring. With guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the Pennsylvania Department of Health (DOH), and the Pennsylvania Department of Education (PDE), MU has developed Mansfield University's Health and Safety Plan for Fall 2020. The university is asking for business and community support of the plan's key guidelines, including student compliance with protective behaviors to promote a safe environment both on and off campus. This includes: 1. Social distancing. 2. Wearing of face masks. 3. Washing hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds or use of a 60% alcohol hand sanitizer. 4. Limiting travel or refraining from traveling to areas where there is a risk of COVID-19 infection. 5. Monitoring, surveillance, and reporting. As conditions require and as further research, data and resources become available, the MU Health and Safety Plan will be updated. Health and safety videos and tutorials are being developed and will launch in advance of the fall semester. Visit mansfield.edu/health-and-safety-plan to access a complete copy of the plan, to find the most up-to-date information regarding the fall opening of campus, and to submit questions. Thank you for continuing to take this situation seriously to help us to not only protect our students, faculty, staff, and university visitors, but also our community businesses, employees, and at-risk members of our community — MU President Charles E. Patterson.
