The special video tribute to essential workers includes 13 members of the EMMF Festival Symphony Orchestra's brass and percussion sections playing American composer Aaron Copland's three-minute "Fanfare for the Common Man." Among the EMMF guest artist concerts are "teasers" by eight emerging Hollywood composers during which each one talks about composing and plays a portion of his or her original composition representing a decade of music from the 1940s through 2010-2020. Their works will premiere during EMMF's 2021 season. The virtual series also features concerts by Bram Wijnands performing stride piano jazz pieces; Sheng Cai playing Beethoven and Rachmaninoff at the piano; Fire in the Glen giving a porch concert of Celtic music; and Peggy Dettwiler, Mansfield University's Choral Activities director, sharing music from the university's choral program from 2016 to 2020 "to generate enthusiasm for the day when we shall sing together again," she said. Other EMMF guest musicians showcased in the virtual series are: singer-songwriter Abbie Gardner, a talented Dobro and slide guitarist performing her original folk songs; Grammy-winner Doris Hall-Gulati on clarinet; Jessica Wilbee on harp; violinists Hua Jin, Sirena Huang and Siwoo Kim; and vocalists Catherine Robison-Ranney and Todd Ranney. "The EMMF live festival will be back and better than ever in 2021 featuring these incredible guest artists," said Executive Director Cindy Long. "In the meantime, we hope people enjoy their virtual performances." Use <https://vimeo.com/showcase/emmf2020> to access the 2020 Virtual Endless Mountain Music Festival concerts and tribute. The link is available on the Endless Mountain Music Festival's website at www.endlessmountain.net, Facebook at Endless Mountain Music Festival, at Instagram@endlessmountainmusicfestival, and at Twitter@EMMusicfestival. UPDATED TODAY, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25: Hamilton-Gibson Productions — 29

Water Street, Wellsboro. "Stray Cats," Hamilton-Gibson's next main stage production, offers a unique blend of humor and sadness. Featured are a series of musically influenced monologues by men who are alone for a wide variety of reasons. Some guys are leaders, some guys are joiners and some guys are "stray cats." They hit bottom, paint themselves into a corner, or reach a moment of transcendence. The use of monologues to tell their stories underscores how alone these men are. One by one, each man stands in the spotlight on stage talking about his life. Tying the characters and scenes together is a jazz motif created by local musician Dave Driskell.

"Throughout the play, Dave's saxophone is heard between stories, and he and his saxophone are an active element in the final scene," said Thomas Putnam, artistic director. Three members of HG's original 2001 "Stray Cats" cast are appearing in this production. They are: Driskell with his saxophone and two of the three actors, Thomas Putnam and Ryan Dalton. Rob Kathcart will perform the roles played by Bill Kovalcik in 2001.

Each of the three actors plays more than one character. Performances will be at 7:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 9 and 10 and 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 11 in the Warehouse Theatre at 3 Central Avenue in Wellsboro and on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 16 and 17 at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 18 at 2:30 p.m. Ticket prices for all main stage productions are $14 for adults and $6 for youth, 18 and under. Tickets must be ordered in advance and prepaid online at hgp.booktix.com or by calling the HG office with credit card information. No tickets will be sold at the door. Seats will be assigned, and audience members must follow social distancing guidelines and wear face coverings throughout the performance. For more information, to purchase a flex pass good for any six tickets with no expiration date, or to reserve and prepay, call 570-724-2079 or email info@hamiltongibson.org.

UPDATED TODAY, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25: Mansfield University — 31 South Academy Street, Mansfield. Phone: 570-662-4000. As of Wednesday, Sept. 23 at 9:40pm, none of the six students who tested positive for COVID-19 and whose cases were reported on Aug. 23, Sept. 5, 9 or 21 are currently in isolation on- or off-campus. MU reports that all six completed the isolation period. No employees have tested positive. In the wake of COVID-19, MU is offering 75 percent of its courses online with 25 percent being delivered in-person either partially or entirely, including natural and health science lab courses, clinicals, student teaching, internships and certain courses in music and art. The residential campus population has been reduced to about one-third of total capacity. With guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the Pennsylvania Department of Health (DOH), and the Pennsylvania Department of Education (PDE), MU developed Mansfield University's Health and Safety Plan for Fall 2020 and is making changes as necessary. The university is asking for business and community support of the plan's key guidelines, including student compliance with protective behaviors to promote a safe environment both on and off campus. This includes: 1. Social distancing. 2. Wearing of face masks. 3. Washing hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds or use of a 60% alcohol hand sanitizer. 4. Limiting travel or refraining from traveling to areas where there is a risk of COVID-19 infection. 5. Monitoring, surveillance, and reporting. Visit mansfield.edu/health-and-safety-plan to access a complete copy of the plan, to find the most up-to-date information regarding the fall opening of campus, and to submit questions.

UPDATED TODAY, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25: Victoria Theater – 222 Main Street in Blossburg. Call 570-638-3456. This theater is open to the public. Family-friendly favorite films are being presented through an arrangement with Universal Studios due to the current unavailability of new movies. Admission is free. Donations are appreciated. Show times for “The Muppet Movie” are tonight, Friday, Sept. 25 at 7pm, this Saturday, Sept 26 at 7pm, and this Sunday, Sept. 27 at 4pm. Admission is free. Donations are appreciated. “The Muppet Movie” is rated G and runs one hour and 30 minutes. This musical road comedy was the first theatrical film featuring the Muppets. Henson Associates and ITC Entertainment produced “The Muppet Movie” between the first and second half of the third season of “The Muppet Show”, a comedy television series created by Jim Henson that ran from Sept. 5, 1976 through May 1981. The film, released on June 22, 1979, tells the origin story of the Muppets. In their first feature film, the Muppets retell the story of how Kermit the Frog decided to pursue a movie career and began a cross-country trip from Florida to Hollywood, California. Along the way, he meets and befriends several of the Muppets, including Fozzie Bear, Miss Piggy, Gonzo and rock musicians Dr. Teeth and the Electric Mayhem. The film is a movie-in-a-movie, with Kermit the Frog and the rest of the Muppets gathering for the first screening of “The Muppet Movie.” Paul Williams and Kenneth Ascher composed the music for this film. Kermit the Frog sings “The Rainbow Connection”; Jim Hensen, “Movin’ Right Along” and “Hope That Somethin’ Better Comes Along”; Miss Piggy, “Never Before, Never Again”; and Dr. Teeth and the Electric Mayhem, “Can You Picture That?” No free movie passes are being accepted at this time. Concession prices remain the same. Stop in to get popcorn whenever the theater is open. Being shown on Thursdays at 1pm and 7pm, Fridays and Saturdays at 7pm, and Sundays at 4pm are: and October 1-4, “Nanny McPhee Returns”.
