ROOKIE COOKS ACADEMY OFFERS 22 CLASSES OCT. 23 THRU DEC. 16

The new Rookie Cooks Academy, with 22 classes being offered between Oct. 23 and Dec. 16, is attracting not only local registrants but also some from the Corning, N.Y. and Williamsport areas. "Those from out of the area are looking for things to do here prior to the start of the classes they are attending at the Tioga County Fairgrounds in Whitneyville," said Tammy Mengee, owner of Benedict's tours division. "Any businesses interested in offering a discount at their stores or restaurants to participants in these classes are welcome to contact me by calling 570-724-5867 ext. 6 or emailing Tammy@benedictsbus.com. Discounts would be valid the day of the cooking class with the class ticket presented for proof of the participant's attendance," said Mengee. Nine of the classes are already sold out. There are openings in 13 other classes, including one opening for the Friday, Oct. 23 6pm-8:30pm Surf & Turf with Chef Jamie Fry class for adults and two openings for the Sunday, Oct. 25 2pm-4pm Children's Pizza Making class with Chef Tim Bradley. Only 15 to 16 participants are being accepted for each adult class to allow each person an opportunity to spend time with the chef or instructor. Each participant is assigned to a cooking station, an individualized custom-made mobile kitchen island with all new pots and pans, cooking utensils, mixing bowls, pasta maker and whatever else is needed. In addition, all ingredients are prepped for each cooking station to ensure there is time for the demonstration, preparing the food, and for the participants to enjoy eating what they cook. Most will have leftovers to take home. Also offered are classes for children to experience cooking with a parent or grandparent. Chefs and instructors include: Lori Beckwith, Rich Beckwith, Carrie Bradley, Tim Bradley, Connie Cooper, Deb Fitch, Jamie Fry, Brad Goodwin, Betty Haase, Brett Kennedy and Lori Kennedy. "We have been asked to offer Christmas gift certificates for upcoming cooking classes being held this year or next and have those available for purchase for any dollar amount for a specific class or a class of the recipient's choice," said Mengee. To register for a cooking class, email Tammy at Tammy@Benedictsbus.com or visit [www. STORYTELLER TO PRESENT FREE GHOSTLY TALES PROGRAM FOR KIDS AND ADULTS OUTDOORS AT NOON THIS SATURDAY, OCT. 10

At noon this Saturday, Oct. 10, Master Storyteller Jonathan Kruk will give a live, one-hour theatrical performance with a behind-the-scenes look at the history of the ghostly tales in Washington Irving's "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" on the outdoor stage on the Central Avenue side of the Deane Center at 104 Main Street in Wellsboro. This show is for adults and children, ages 8 and older, and is free thanks to sponsors Xtreme Internet and Indigo Wireless. To see "The Legends of 'The Legend of Sleepy Hollow' — The Haunted History of the Headless Horseman and Sleepy Hollow's Ghosts" bring lawn chairs and/or blankets and sit on the grass in front of the outdoor stage or on Central Avenue, which will be closed to traffic between Main Street and the Warehouse Theatre to provide space for social distancing. Dressed in 1790s period clothing, Kruk will tell how the Headless Horseman really lost his head along with the origin stories about the ghost of Tragical Major André, the Wailing Woman in White and other spirits surrounding this mythical figure. He brings these ghostly characters to life using varied voices, accents, gestures and audience participation. "This program is family friendly with tales that are spooky but not scary or gory. It is also for adults, including ghost and history buffs," Kruk said. "Some of the stories are about the German soldiers that fought with the British Army during the American Revolutionary War." Selected "Best Storyteller in New York's Hudson Valley," Kruk has been featured on NBC's The Today Show, CBS Sunday Morning, ABC's Good Morning America, The Travel Channel, and the BBC. He has eight award-winning recordings, and is the author of two books, "Legends and Lore of Sleepy Hollow and the Hudson Valley," and "Legends and Lore of the Hudson Highlands." For more information, visit deanecenter.com, email office@deanecenter.com, or call 570-724-6220.

The special video tribute to essential workers includes 13 members of the EMMF Festival Symphony Orchestra's brass and percussion sections playing American composer Aaron Copland's three-minute "Fanfare for the Common Man." Among the EMMF guest artist concerts are "teasers" by eight emerging Hollywood composers during which each one talks about composing and plays a portion of his or her original composition representing a decade of music from the 1940s through 2010-2020. Their works will premiere during EMMF's 2021 season. The virtual series also features concerts by Bram Wijnands performing stride piano jazz pieces; Sheng Cai playing Beethoven and Rachmaninoff at the piano; Fire in the Glen giving a porch concert of Celtic music; and Peggy Dettwiler, Mansfield University's Choral Activities director, sharing music from the university's choral program from 2016 to 2020 "to generate enthusiasm for the day when we shall sing together again," she said. Other EMMF guest musicians showcased in the virtual series are: singer-songwriter Abbie Gardner, a talented Dobro and slide guitarist performing her original folk songs; Grammy-winner Doris Hall-Gulati on clarinet; Jessica Wilbee on harp; violinists Hua Jin, Sirena Huang and Siwoo Kim; and vocalists Catherine Robison-Ranney and Todd Ranney. "The EMMF live festival will be back and better than ever in 2021 featuring these incredible guest artists," said Executive Director Cindy Long. "In the meantime, we hope people enjoy their virtual performances." Use <https://vimeo.com/showcase/emmf2020> to access the 2020 Virtual Endless Mountain Music Festival concerts and tribute. The link is available on the Endless Mountain Music Festival's website at www.endlessmountain.net, Facebook at Endless Mountain Music Festival, at Instagram@endlessmountainmusicfestival, and at Twitter@EMMusicfestival. ### UPDATED TODAY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9: Hamilton-Gibson Productions —

29 Water Street, Wellsboro. Tonight, Friday, Oct. 9 at 7:30pm "Stray Cats," a Hamilton-Gibson main stage production, opens at the Warehouse Theatre at 3 Central Avenue in Wellsboro. Performances will also be this Saturday, Oct. 10 at 7:30pm and this Sunday, Oct. 11 at 2:30pm and at 7:30pm Friday and Saturday, Oct. 16 and 17 and 2:30pm Sunday, Oct. 18. This play offers a unique blend of humor and sadness. Featured are a series of musically influenced monologues by men who are alone for a wide variety of reasons. Some guys are leaders, some guys are joiners and some guys are "stray cats." They hit bottom, paint themselves into a corner, or reach a moment of transcendence. The use of monologues to tell their stories underscores how alone these men are. One by one, they stand in the spotlight on stage talking about their lives. Tying the characters and scenes together is a jazz motif created by local musician Dave Driskell. "Throughout the play, Dave's saxophone is heard between stories, and he and his saxophone are an active element in the final scene," said Thomas Putnam, artistic director. Three members of HG's original 2001 "Stray Cats" cast are appearing in this production. They are: Driskell with his saxophone and two of the three actors, Thomas Putnam and Ryan Dalton. Rob Kathcart will perform the roles played by Bill Kovalcik in 2001. Each of the three actors plays more than one character. Ticket prices for all main stage productions are $14 for adults and $6 for youth, 18 and under. Tickets must be ordered in advance and prepaid online at hgp.booktix.com or by calling the HG office with credit card information. No tickets will be sold at the door. Seats will be assigned, and audience members must follow social distancing guidelines and wear face coverings throughout the performance. For more information, to purchase a flex pass good for any six tickets with no expiration date, or to reserve and prepay, call 570-724-2079 or email info@hamiltongibson.org.

As of Thursday Oct. 8 at 11:59am, the MU COVID-19 Case Tracker reported on Sept. 30 that two students at MU's Sayre campus tested positive for the coronavirus and are isolated off campus. Six other students who tested positive for COVID-19 and whose cases were reported on Aug. 23, Sept. 5, 9 and 18 completed the isolation period on- or off-campus. No employees are reported as having tested positive. In the wake of COVID-19, MU is offering 75 percent of its courses online with 25 percent being delivered in-person either partially or entirely, including natural and health science lab courses, clinicals, student teaching, internships and certain courses in music and art. The residential campus population has been reduced to about one-third of total capacity. With guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the Pennsylvania Department of Health (DOH), and the Pennsylvania Department of Education (PDE), MU developed Mansfield University's Health and Safety Plan for Fall 2020 and is making changes as necessary. The university is asking for business and community support of the plan's key guidelines, including student compliance with protective behaviors to promote a safe environment both on and off campus. This includes: 1. Social distancing. 2. Wearing of face masks. 3. Washing hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds or use of a 60% alcohol hand sanitizer. 4. Limiting travel or refraining from traveling to areas where there is a risk of COVID-19 infection. 5. Monitoring, surveillance, and reporting. Visit mansfield.edu/health-and-safety-plan to access a complete copy of the plan, to find the most up-to-date information regarding the fall opening of campus, and to submit questions.
